Course Overview

This workshop is all about your own leadership self-awareness, identifying your call to courage as a leader and the learning, practice and integration of the four courage skills sets so you can show up authentically in life and leadership. Dare to Lead is the ultimate playbook for developing brave leaders and courageous cultures. The greatest barrier to daring leadership is not fear; the greatest obstacle is armor how we self-protect when we feel uncertainty, risk and emotional exposure. Learn the skills to move from armored leadership to daring leadership. Daring leaders are self-aware, know how to have hard conversations, hold themselves and others accountable, build trust, lead with empathy and connection, take smart risks that lead to innovation, reset quickly after disappointments and setbacks, and give and receive feedback. This interactive curriculum is delivered in five, half-day sessions and is based on the research by Bren®® Brown. This course comes with a PDF workbook and an Amazon gift card to purchase the Dare to Lead book in the version of your choice. You also have access to a series of leadership and personal development assessments and exclusive training videos led by Dr. Bren®® Brown. At the end of the event, a digital badge is awarded to those who complete 24 hours of course content.

Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this course, participants will be able to:

Recognize vulnerability as the emotion we feel during times of uncertainty, risk, and emotional exposure.

Explain why courage requires vulnerability.

Establish a link between what I learned and behaviors I want to change.

Recognize the critical role that self-awareness plays in daring leadership.

Give examples to support how armor - not fear - is the greatest obstacle to daring leadership.

Identify the four skill sets that make up courage: rumbling with vulnerability, living into our values, BRAVING trust, and learning to rise.

Recognize that courage is a collection of four skill sets that are measurable, observable, and teachable.

Recognize that vulnerability is the birthplace of many of the behaviors that define daring leadership, including creativity, accountability, and difficult conversations.

Give examples of why daring leadership requires showing up for hard conversations and rumbles, including giving and receiving feedback.
